Information

Where?

Nestled in the Cheshire hills between Frodsham and Helsby, Foxhill provides a quiet idyll for those wanting time to pray, to think, or simply to be. The grounds boast over 75 acres of woodland to explore. The Arboretum - Foxhill Arboretum features some of the best specimens of some of the world's rarer trees, dotted over the hillside.

The Japanese Garden - One of the most serene places on the estate.

The Maze - Foxhill's full size (1/2 mile) maze is one of only a few original mazes in the country.

The Folly - Intrepid adventurers will find this old watchtower at the far edge of the grounds, with views over Liverpool and the Clwydian hills.

Walks - There are graded walks, varying in difficulty, which cover the entire hill

One of the best places to see the beauty of the grounds of Foxhill is from the Chapel, which is both an inspiring and unique place to worship.

Foxhill is situated 10 minutes drive from junctions 12 and 14 of the M56.

By Road: From M56 Junction 12, follow signs to the A56. From the A56 turn left onto Tarvin Road ( B5393). Travel for approximately one mile and take the left turn into the Foxhill estate.
